

Did you know that...

There are over 350 local employers in our database?

As a Jobline Committee member you can participate in the big project to update our employer database

Contact: Douglas Krupa, CFA Chair: Corporate Outreach, corp.outreach@stamfordcfa.org

SCFAS offers Scholarships and Classes in Stamford, Connecticut?

More convenient than taking review classes in other big cities far away.

In-building classes can be arranged for large groups.

Contact: Michelle Sacco, CFA Chair: Education
education@stamfordcfa.org

Building your professional network is one of the main missions of SCFAS?

Most SCFAS events have two food services, one before the speaker and one after, to encourage networking by lingering on.

Volunteering can take as little as an hour a month?

And can open up a world of world class speakers, high level contacts and cutting edge professional knowledge.

Contact: Yijing Robertson, CFA Chair, Programs events@stamfordcfa.org

SCFAS Social Networking happy hour events are a relaxed way to meet new investment professionals in the area?

Relax. You've earned the rest after all that studying.

Contact: Safia Mehta, CFA Chair: Career Development; career.development@stamfordcfa.org

Local educational institutions like Sacred Heart University and UCONN are working closely with SCFAS?

Like mapping their Finance Department offerings to the CFA Body of Knowledge

Contact: Michael Dineen, CFA Chair: University Relations university.relations@stamfordcfa.org

A new, local-only Adjunct Membership category in SCFAS has been opened to non-CFA charterholders in the area?

No CFA Institute Dues; Open to all past/present Level I/II or III, Faculty, Senior Investment Professionals (with or without CFA Charter), Students

Member reciprocity means that membership in SCFAS gives you privileges in other Societies?

Like access to other local Societies' programs at their member rates

You should join the Stamford CFA Society EVEN IF you have not yet gotten your Level I/II or III test results?

Because you can start building your professional network now through SCFAS events, committees and education events

Contact: Amit Chokshi, CFA Chair, Membership membership@stamfordcfa.org
